About The Artist

Farizwan Fajari, professionally known as Speak Cryptic*, is an artist currently working and living in Singapore.

“Endless manifestations of the self are a feature of Speak Cryptic’s work - identity rippling forth through texts and phrases extracted from punk lyrics, intricate patterns and figures. His drawings, paintings and installations stem from inquiries into ancestral migration, ethnic dislocation, gentrification and alternative subcultures.”*

the moniker “Speak Cryptic” originated from a public art campaign of the same name that started in 2005, exploring issues pertaining to self-censorship and the public space.*

written by Deborah Lim, curator and former junior partner of Chan + Hori Contemporary.*
